

Travel Claims & Insurance Investigations

Herridge Associates, a sister company to Surelock, has for many years undertaken insurance claims for the travel industry, where it has gained a formidable reputation.

We have a number of highly experienced investigators throughout both the United Kingdom and Ireland. Our associates carry out in-depth investigations regarding these claims, interviewing the claimants and taking detailed witness statements. We are often successful at saving our instructing clients significant sums of money by proving that the circumstances of claims fall outside the scope of the policies.

We have also identified professional teams that are regularly making fraudulent claims. In such cases we gather both conventional and covert evidence in order to initiate a prosecution.

By examining handwriting samples using our own forensic experts, we have identified discrepancies in individual claims and proved similarities between multiple claims.
